What is Stop & Shop's policy on doubling manufacturer coupons?

Manufacturer coupons must be presented before the order is rung up. Only one manufacturer's coupon per item will be accepted. There are no substitutions and the exact item featured on the coupon must be purchased. The coupon cannot be redeemed after the expiration date. Coupons with a face value of over $.99 will not be doubled*. Total redemption may not exceed the retail value of the item. No other food store's coupons are accepted.

* May vary by store location

Do you accept internet coupons?

We happily accept Internet coupons except in situations where manufacturers have alerted us to specific fraudulent coupons.

Can I get on a mailing list to receive coupons or special offers?

We offer many different types of promotions that are targeted offers to specific customers at varying times and are based on many different factors. We do not maintain a mailing list that is used for all offers, due to the fact that offers are being sent to different customers in different locations at different times and for different reasons.

We recommend that customers make sure their addresses are updated and accurate in our card database, and that there is no privacy block on their card, where they may have opted out of mailings when they first signed up for the card. If you update your card information and include your email address, we do sometimes send out email newsletters with offers. You can check your information on our website, or call our card hotline at 1-877-366-2668.
